ANTHÉLIA® Pulsed Light

The Anthelia Photolaser® assures safe treatments and visible results thanks to its integrated system that ensures constant and efficient pulsed light flashes. The advantage of Anthelia Photolaser® is the preciseness of the power of the pulsed light: the flash diffuses sufficient power for the treatments for which it is destined and thus minimizing the risk of burns and discoloration of the skin.

Thanks to this system, you can say goodbye to unwanted hair, couperose, varicose veins and pigmentary spots. You may even profit from cellular rejuvenation that will erase wrinkles and regain that youthful glow.

Photorejuvenation - collagen resurfacing

- Diminishes wrinkles
- Stimulates the production of collagen and elastin
- Firms and tones the skin and unifies skin tone

Vascular lesions in 2 to 5 sessions

- Eliminates couperose
- Fades out erythroses
- Treats small unaesthetic varicose veins

Pigmentary spots in 1 to 3 sessions

- Erases brown spots, sun spots and port wine stains
- Attenuates ageing effects

Permanent hair removal in 5 to 6 sessions

On all white, brown or black skin offering permanent hair removal on blond or white hair with results comparable to electrolysis.

PhotoLaser

Offering the benefits of unique and exclusive patented technology, Anthélia® is able to ensure not only the lasting photepilation of black and brown hair, but also of white and blond hair (on all skin tones).

- Treatment for all types of skin: from black to white
- Hair removal for all types of hair, even the whitest
- Results up to 8 times faster than regular treatments
- 2 times more efficient than other IPL or lasers
- Larger treatment surface for faster results saving time and money

The Anthélia® pulsed light, polychromatic light filtered of all ultraviolet rays (UVA, UVB and UVC), generates an artificial yet totally natural reactivation of collagen and elastin. The treatment is painless, without risk and innocuous for the face and body.

Always with the well-being and satisfaction of their clientele at heart, aestheticians who use the Anthelia Photolaser® have followed a complete and in-depth training. They are capable, thanks to their knowledge of skin structure, their capacity to recognize different skin stages, their knowledge of hair growth phases and their explanation of pilosity to establish precise recommendation and target personalized sequences directed to each individual.

Electrolysis

All areas of the body have a covering of hair with the exception of the palms of the hands and the soles of the feet. Hair grows in cycles. On the average, a hair is active anywhere from 2 to 6 years and then rests for several months before repeating its cycle.

Superfluous hair has been a secret problem to men and women since the beginning of time. If you have unwanted hair, you are not alone, for about 90% of men and women this is a problem and have had to cope. There are many reasons for the growth of superfluous hair (hereditary or glandular problem; it may appear after illnesses or operations or as result of medications...)

Tweezing, shaving, waxing and the use of depilatory cream are only temporary methods of hair removal and can actually stimulate the hair root so that it increases the strength and quantity of regrowth. Even the fine hair coarsens and darkens to become problem hair. If you have been shaving or otherwise tampering with the hair for years, electrolysis treatment can still be effective.

The creators of Apilus have designed a state-of-the-art computerized electrolysis machine that limits the level of destruction within the hair follicle, targeting only germ cells. This consequently protects the skin and prevents new hair growth.

It is not possible to complete the sterilization of the hair follicle in one treatment. There will be some regrowth, therefore repeated and regular treatments are necessary. As treatment progresses, the hair cell is gradually weakened and the hair becomes finer. When complete sterilization is achieved, the follicle closes and thus the hair cannot grow again. Hair can be safely removed from all parts of the body except the inner ear and inner nostril.

Ultime Jeunesse Collection - Mature Skin

Collagen represents 70% of skin weight: it is the cement and support that provides structure and firmness. With age, collagen tends to lose tightness and thus our skin loses also its tonus. The Ultime Jeunesse [ultimate youth] products are designed for mature skin and for the prevention of aging signs.
